LOOKING FOR A HOME.

The Building Committee of the Academy of Arts and Sciences

FACING A VERY KNOTTY PROBLEM.

Temporary Quarters Needed for Its Growing Collection.

MEETING TO-DAY TO TALK IT OVER

The Building Committee of the Academy of Arts and Sciences will hold a meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock to consider the very bothersome problem of an immediate home for the various societies whose membership constitutes the body. Mr. C. C. Mellor, who is enthusiastic over the foundation of the academy, and who has worked incessantly for its promotion, made an explanation yesterday of the difficulties that at present confront the committee. Mr. George A. Macbeth is Chairman of the committee the other members being John A. Brashear, W. S. Bell, George S. Orth and Dr. W. J. Holland.

Mr. Mellor said: "I am not a member of the Building Committee, but I take an active interest in the progress of the Academy scheme. We need a building immedistely, in order to accomplish the actual amalgamation of the various scientific and emy. We had hoped to obtain the old Thaw mansion, on Fifth street, by permission of Mrs. Thaw, but it seems that the will gives her no control, and we must rent the building off the trustees. It is said that the rental will be placed at $2,500 per annum, just $1,000 more than we can afford to pay. It is hinted that Curry University desires to rent the Thaw mansion, and it is to ascer-tain what can be done that the committee is

THE BUILDING NEEDED.

Te is the idea of the Academy to secure a building large enough to accommodate each society in a separate room, with, perhaps, a large room for general meetings and art exhibitions. The importance of the necessity of such a building will be better understood with the explanation that the collection of curiosities which will be housed under one roof is meant to be the nucleus of the mu-seum which is a portion of Mr. Carnegie's plans. Our Academy library must in like manner grow to much larger proportions in the next two or three years, in order to be adequate to the home Mr. Carnegie will provide. In order to achieve all these ends, it is absolutely necessary that the present societies get together speedily and commence work with the future in view.

"Each of the societies has much that is valuable to contribute to the general plan, but nothing can be done without permanent quarters. The latter will also assure us the possession of thousands of dollars' worth of curious scientific, literary and artistic specimens, as well as many botanical and natural history articles of interest. Several very valuable coin collections are also inview and I coin collections are also in view, and I hopeatly believe that when we obtain permanent quarters, such a stream of contributions will flow in that when we get into Mr. Carnegie's building we will have a museum second to none outside of the Smithsonian Institution. This is the possibility, and it can be readily seen how important a proper beginning is at

IN HARMONY WITH IT. "We have been for a year past in consultation with Mr. Carnegie and are moving in harmony with his views, and the Academy is sure to be cariched in various ways by his liberality. Once we get a building and the various societies housed in it, it will be plain

"Ways and means are a knotty problem just at present. The societies concerned in the movement pay $1,100 in rent at the present time. Then we have 250 members who pay $10 per annum as their dues a we can reckon on an income of nearly $4,000. On the other hand, the Academy must have a competent and educated janitor, who will be a scientific and artistic Pooh Bah in the matter of being able to take care of our instruments, books and property in general. We figure that help, light, heat and accessories will cost $2,500 a year. Then a heavy rental on top of that compels us to wonder where the money will come from.

"It is bound to cost considerable to furnish any building we obtain, and to arrange the equipment of the various societies will add to the expense. It is not desirable to impose any extra burdens upon the societies in the Academy. They should be left free to improve their individual collections and their 'autonomy,' as Dr. Hol-

HARD WORK AHEAD, "There is hard work ahead for all of the societies, and we want everybody in Pitts-burg who has any interest in such matters to help the good work along. What we have engaged ourselves to do is to eventually be enjoyed by the whole public, and all the people have an interest in the movement. With plenty of room each of the societies can branch out in the matter of membership, and the Academy itself should number at least 500 members within the next year. The University buildings are admirably adapted to the uses of the Academy, but the price set upon them by the County Commissioners places them out of our reach, unless the miraculous occurs. "No, I cannot say what will be done. We will have an ultimatum on the Thaw man-sion to-morrow, and hope that we can secure it, for its central location and ample size make it admirably adapted to the purposes of the Academy.

A SERIOUS QUESTION.

Continued from First Page, that there is no difference in the power of Congress to regulate foreign commerce on ardent spirits and in their power of regulation over any other article of commerce. All objects of commerce, so far as the power of regulation by Congress is concerned, are exactly on the same footing. We may dismiss, therefore, in considering the constitutionality of the bill, the incident that this particular commodity may be injurious to the health and morals of the people, as wholly immaterial. Congress, it is true, in forming a regulation of commerce with reference to intoxicants, may properly consider their injurious effect in use, and may form the regulation with reference to that effect. But having imposed a tax on the importation, and thereby recognized spirits as of foreign commerce, the regulation of commerce on them must be governed by the same constitutional rules as apply to all foreign com-merce. As before stated, we express no opinion as to the power of the States, without any aid from Congress, to prohibit the sale of imported intoxicants by the importers in the original packages. If they have such power, there is no need of this bill, the sole object of which is to confer the power. The bill is improper, if not unconstitutional, if considered as a declaration merely by Congress that such power exists in the States. That is purely a judicial question. The Congress can enact laws—they cannot expound them. Necessarily in enacting a law on any given subject Congress determines that they have jurisdiction and power to legislate over that subject. But this determination is the necessary incident of enacting a stantuc which of itself becomes a rule of action; the framing of the rule, not the exposition of the constitution, being the end sought to be obtained. The settling of the meaning of the constitution is not a legitimate object of legislative power.

The gist of the minority report in favor of the bill is contained in the following, this ion as to the power of the States, without any of the bill is contained in the following, this artistic bodies now included in the Acad-and Wilson, of Iowa:

An importer of ardent spirits, or of any other article of foreign production is entitled to no greater protection under the Constitution than is the dealer in like articles of dotion than is the dealer in like articles of domestic manufacture. The man who manufactures ardent spirits in a State where it is lawful so to do is not in a condition inferior in matter of constitutional right to the person who imports such spirits from abroad. The one pays an internal revenue tax, the other mays a tax levied by the customs laws, and what Congress may constitutionally say about one it may repeat as to the other. It has said that no payment of internal revenue tax shall exempt the manufacturer or dealer in domestic spirits from the

OPERATION OF THE LAWS

of the several States. This the courts have said is constitutional. The bill under consider ation proposes to enact a like declaration relative to the importer of foregn spirits. It is not doubted that the judicial result will correspond with that reached in the other case. The attempt of the committee to establish a distinctempt of the committee to establish a distinc-tion between the dealers in the foreign article by importation and those engaged in the field of domestic commerce cannot be made success-ful. There is nothing in the Constitution as-suring superior advantages to foreign com-merce over that which is domestic. Nor is there anything in the bill submitted by the Sen-ate to the committee which succests a violathere anything in the bill submitted by the Senate to the committee which suggests a violation of the rule of uniformity prescribed by the Constitution. It proposes no new departure in the legislation of Congress. The legislative precedents cited justify its terms. They have stood the test of judicial scrutiny and have been approved.

The minority furthermore offered an amendment to the bill striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting the follow-

The foregoing, with the report sent to THE DISPATCH last evening upon the bill now in the Scuate, embodies, it may be said, the acts and operations of Congress on this subject up to the present time. The opinions cited above will play an important part in the discussion when the bill comes before the Senate. Senator Vest expects to use the argument of the majority with his admitted great ability and cunning in debate, against those members who have since reversed themselves and concluded that, under the ruling of Chief Justice Fuller, Congress has the power to do what it was absolutely forbidden to do under the ruling of Justices Taney and Marshall.

SULLIVAN COULDN'T STAND IT.

The Original Package Decision Causes Fight in a Central Station Cell.

Teddy Sullivan was drunk and ugly last night when he was sent up in the patrol wagon from the neighborhood of the Union depot. He objected to the style of the vehicle and had pronounced opinions on the character of the accommodations furnished to stating them. Mr. Sullivan was shown o a chamber on the ground floor, which had already one occupant who was placidly sleeping on the smooth oak board which is the most conspicuous article of furniture in half awoke when Mr. Sullivan entered the apartment and drowsily murmured, "Give us nuzzer 'rishnal packish."

Mr. Sullivan could not stand this implied insult to the Brooks law, and promptly taking the sleeper by the head, threw him on the floor and began to pound him. The two night Sergeants at once took a hand in the fracas and finally subdued Mr. Sullivan, and a few minutes later both prisoners were lying on the same bench and snoring ami-

On visiting the house 33 men were found sleeping in two rooms, 22 in one and 11 in the other. The odor wes intoterable, and in addition to arresting the man the inspector decided to notify the Board of Health.

The house has been the scene of several skirmishes with the police, and is considered a dangerous place. The two parties of boarders have declared war against each other, and last night's fracas was but the beginning of hostilities. More trouble is anticipated

I.O.O.F. GRAND LODGE

Details of the Annual Meeting in the Twin Cities, Next Week.

OVER 1,800 DELEGATES EXPECTED

Held West of the Mountains the First Time in Twenty-One Years.

VERY INTERESTING PROGRAMME

For the first time in 21 years the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., will meet west of the mountains, the sessions being equally divided between the two cities, and occupying nearly all of next week. The meeting of 21 years ago was held in Lafayette Hall. The forthcoming meeting will be the most important in the history of the order within

Mr. John A. Myler, ex-postmaster, of Allegheny, is chairman of the local Committee of Arrangements, and he expects 1,800 delegates, representing the 1,000 lodges in the State. As many of the delegates will be accompanied by their wives, the visitors to the city next week will be largely increased.

The programme as prepared by the local Committee of Arrangements is very elaborate, and covers five days of next week. On Monday morning at 9 o'clock the Grand Encampment will be held at the hall, No. 67 Fourth avenue, and at 2 o'clock P. M. the officers of the Grand Lodge will proceed to Homestead, where the new Odd Fellows' Hall will be dedicated. On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock the Daughters of Rebekah will begin their annual session at No. 67 Fourth avenue with representatives present from all lodges of the State.

THE FIRST DAY'S WORK. On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock the Grand Lodge will meet in annual session at Carnegie Hall, Allegheuy, commencing a four or five days' deliberation of the important changes proposed in the workings of the order. On Tuesday evening the laddes of Pittsburg Lodge, "Alice Carey," Daughters of Rebekah, will give the beautified work of their order at Turner Hall, on Forbes street, to be followed by a banquet, at which the visiting delegates and ladies will be entertained. Covers will be laid for over 1,000 persons.

On Wednesday evening, at Carnegie Hall, the secret work of the order will be exem-plified and instructions given by Past Grand Sire Nicholson, of Philadelphia. The importance of the meeting can hardly be esti-mated. The entire law of the order is to be revised and changed. Several very radical amendments are proposed. Among the important questions to come up is the cele-brated 18-year matter. At the present time no one can become an Odd Fellow unless 21 years of age, and it is hoped to bring the age limit down to 18.

SOME HUSTLING NEEDED. Superintendent Waddington and Engineer Fisher, of the Carnegie Library, will have some lively hustling to place the hall in readiness for the Grand Lodge meeting.

Every window in the building will have to be rendered impervious to the eye of mortal and the lighting will be entirely artificial. The election for Grand Lodge officers for the ensuing year has been completed in the subordinate lodges. The results will be tabulated and announced in the Grand Lodge and the installation will take place on Friday evening. Mr. Myler secured the convention for Pittsburg by promising the delegates a peep at the greatest industrial wonders of the world. Some time will therefore be devoted to sight-seeing, covering the whole city and its surroundings.

Rev. David Craft, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, I. O. O. F., will preach in the First Methodist Protestant Church, Fifth avenue, to-morrow evening. Subject: "Opportunity and Service."

THE FIRST ORGAN RECITAL.

Programme for To-Day's Free Entertals ment in Carnegie Hall.

The first free organ recital authorized by the city of Allegheny, to be given in Carnegie Hall, will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. It will be given by the city organist, assisted vocally by Mrs. J. E. Porter, the well-known soprano. The full programme is:

Cured by Cuticura

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago it would have saved me game to hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel tich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I took "and Barsaparilias over one year and a baif, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors, and no cure. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them were three boxes of CUTICURA, and three bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $300, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of psoriasis (picture number two, "How to Cure Skin Diseases"), but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rab my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I acratched twenty-light years, and it got to be a kind of second mature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

Straw Mattings. Boggs&Buhl, WRAPS AND JACKETS

We call attention to a few of the leading Spring and Summer Over-Garments for the fairer sex, drawn from Parisian, Berliner and our best American Fabricants. These exhibit prevailing ideas, which are amplified in our stock by a hundred variations. No such array of attractive Jackets, Wraps, Jerseys and Blouses has ever been shown in Pittsburg as will be found in our Mammoth Show Rooms. One most desirable and very taking style of LADIES' JACKETS comes in fine Diagonals, Widewales, Corkscrews, Chevrons and Stockinette, with silk or cloth revers. This line embraces Jackets from $6 to $20, according to quality.

A telling feature is a tight fitting DIRECTOIRE JACKET in same materials as above, with silk or cloth revers, and marked in three grades-$6, $7 and $8 75. These include two very popular styles, but we have an immense stock of Jackets in a variety of forms, which are graded to meet the purses of all, commencing in Black at $2 and running up as high as $20, which includes all the fashionable colors, some in two colors, with silver, gold and Persian trimming effects.

LADIES' SHOULDER CAPES

One handsome style has a ground-work of corded silk, with beads or embroidery, and heavy twist fringe, ranging from $6 50 to $20. Another Cape is composed mainly of Lace and Silk Ribbon. It is very light in weight, exceedingly dressy, and is selling freely from $7 to $10. We have also a nice genteel line of Lace Capes from $3 to $7. The latest Parisian cut has the high shoulders and embroidered at waist.

For Young Ladies there is a very pretty TIGHT FITTING WRAP with high shoulders, the trimming coming to waist and back with medium long points in front. These come in black, allwool materials; also in silk, very handsomely braided and embroidered, and are in grades from $10 to $30. Everything stylish in Capes can be had in Misses' sizes.
